

Mr Whitlam and Swiss flag. He said: "This one I'll pose for: it's neutral!"

Standing under a neutral flag

The Federal Leader of the Opposition, Mr Whitlam, was photographed with another flag on Saturday—a Swiss flag being carried by a Swiss national group waiting to go into the grand parade at the Oktoberfest.

Later he was presented with a German biscuit, in a bag with a string so that he could wear it round the neck.

Mr Whitlam enjoyed the Oktoberfest with 40,000 other people.

The Oktoberfest was Sydney's first beer festival. Modelled on the famous Munich event, it was held at the Fairfield Show-ground.

Mr Whitlam wears a German biscuit labelled "Kiss me."
